

Wow, on the 28th March the Lead Supply Chain Chapter hosted an absolutely amazing onboarding event! With a total of 46 people from 16 different companies joining in, it was an incredible opportunity to network and connect with like-minded individuals. The attendees were thrilled with the event, giving it an overall score of 4.5/5!

Eva Cullen, Head of Customer Fulfilment at John Lewis Partnership and Co-Chair of the SC Chapter, expressed her delight at meeting members who are actively working to improve diversity and inclusion in their organizations. The onboarding session provided an excellent platform to share best practices and ideas between members of all sized organizations, resulting in new connections within the LEAD Network Supply Chain Chapter.

The session was filled with valuable information, best practices, and ideas for improving diversity and inclusion in the workplace. But it wasn't just about the content - the onboarding event was also a chance to meet new people and make connections. As Lindy de Waal, Global Senior HR Business Partner at Reckitt and a member of the Supply Chain Chapter said, the session was set up so well that she even had a 1-1 connect with someone who joined after the call! All in all, the LEAD Supply Chain Chapter's onboarding event was a huge success and a testament to the passion and dedication of its members.
